Subject: Update on May NPL Rule Publication Date

We are still on schedule for a May 1st AA signature of the NPL rules.

However, we have run into another unavoidable snag which will slightly delay our publication date. The group in HQ's Office of Policy, who is responsible for reviewing, processing and relaying our FR notices to the Government Printing Office for publication, will be temporarily unavailable due to an office move. This will push our NPL publication date out a few days. We are now currently projecting an FR publication date of Monday, May 12 with Congressional notification, web update and press release issuance Thursday, May 8.

I'll provide further updates as the time gets closer. Thanks for your patience.
